SOUTH CAROLINA DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

ORGANIZATION OF THE SOUTH CAROLINA DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

The South Carolina Department of Corrections (SCDC) is the administrative agency of South Carolina state government responsible for providing food, shelter, health care, security and rehabilitation services to all adult offenders, age 17 and above, convicted of an offense against the State and sentenced to a period of incarceration exceeding three months. As of June 30, 1985, SCDC had jurisdiction over 11,169 sentenced adult inmates of whom 1,534 were serving an indeterminate sentence under the Youthful Offender Act.¹ Also included, as SCDC "safekeepers," were 39 Death Row² inmates. For more details, see table 30 on page 113. In addition to the 11,169 inmates under SCDC jurisdiction, SCDC also had custody of other safekeepers for the counties as well as unsentenced offenders sent by the courts for pre-sentence investigation under the Youthful Offender Act.

SCDC is headed by a Commissioner who is responsible to the State Board of Corrections, a six-member board appointed by the Governor upon advice and consent of the Senate. The Governor also serves on the Board as an ex officio member. The Commissioner has overall responsibility for the agency, supervising all staff functions and ensuring that all departmental policies are practiced and maintained. Under the immediate supervision of the Office of the Commissioner are the Legal Advisor, and the Divisions of Special Projects, Public Affairs, and Internal Affairs and Inspections. The Executive Assistant to the Commissioner for Legal Settlements and Compliance reports to the Commissioner on the monitoring of legal settlements.

To assist the Commissioner in system operations and program administration are three offices headed by Deputy Commissioners and ten divisions supervised by Directors:

The Office of the Deputy Commissioner for Administration has the major responsibility of coordinating all department-wide activities pertaining to resource and information management, personnel administration and training, industries, and support services. These four areas are individually the management responsibility of a division director, and a description of each is as follows:

² As set forth by S. C. Law, SCDC has the responsibility of "providing a death chamber and all necessary appliances for inflicting such penalty by electrocution" (Section 23-3-540, S. C. Code of Laws).

1. The Division of Resource and Information Management encompasses the functions of planning, budgeting, statistical reporting and analysis, computer operations, system development and programming, offender records and financial accounting.
2. The Division of Personnel Administration and Training develops and administers departmental personnel policies and procedures, handles all personnel matters and develops and implements employee training programs at all levels to meet agency needs.
3. The Division of Industries administers a prison industry program consisting of several production lines and four farming operations. These programs/operations provide work for inmates to help defray the cost of upkeep, and produce goods for other state agencies, institutions and political subdivisions. The division also oversees SCDC's transportation and communication operations.
4. The Division of Support Services directs purchasing, canteen, commissary and food service functions of the agency.

The Office of the Deputy Commissioner for Operations is responsible for managing all security, construction, engineering and maintenance operations statewide. The Deputy Commissioner receives reports from two divisions, a director of security and three regional administrators. Their respective offices and duties are described below:

1. The Division of Construction, Engineering, and Maintenance provides the necessary coordination and supervision required for the implementation and execution of the five-year capital improvements plan, manages all phases of new construction, and is the SCDC liaison with architects, engineers and contractors awarded bids for construction projects. Other responsibilities include management of projects which are constructed with inmate labor and maintenance and operation of the physical plant facilities. The division also performs renovation projects and provides technical assistance to the institutional maintenance personnel, state, county and city officials.

2. The Division of Inmate Operations and Control directs and coordinates all administrative and operational activities relating to the movement, status and number of inmates in SCDC facilities and in designated facilities; provides administrative liaison with the South Carolina Parole and Community Corrections Board, administers the Interstate Corrections Compact in this Agency and ensures compliance with State law and compact agreements. In addition, this division manages the inmate labor details to include contracting with counties and other aspects of the program.

3. The Director of Security manages the overall security posture at SCDC facilities, ensuring availability and serviceability of security equipment. In addition, the Director of Security ensures all security employees are properly trained in assigned duties, especially the effective response of the Reserve Emergency Platoons, Situation Control Teams and Corrections Emergency Response Teams. These units are selected security employees specially trained to respond to emergencies such as riots or hostage situations.

4. Institution operations are divided into three regions headed by a Regional Administrator. The Appalachian Correctional Region has administrative responsibilities for institutions in the upper part of the state. Institutions on the coast are part of the Coastal Correctional Region; the Midlands Correctional Region is made up of those institutions in mid-state South Carolina. Each Regional Administrator is responsible for ensuring all institutions located in his region operate effectively and efficiently.

The Office of the Deputy Commissioner for Program Services³ is administratively responsible for defining, planning and developing a program delivery system that adequately meets the needs of the incarcerated. Delivering a broad spectrum of services under the supervision of this office are the Divisions of Classification and Community Services, Human Services, Educational Services, and Health Services:

1. The Division of Classification and Community Services implements standardized procedures for inmate classification, administers the Youthful Offender Program as directed by the Youthful Offender Act, and supervises the placement of inmates in community programs, (e.g., the Pre-Release and Work Release programs, the Employment Program, the Extended Work Release Program, Supervised Furlough programs and early release programs).
2. The Division of Human Services' field staff provides psychological, social and specialized institutional services to inmates, and its central administrative staff provides service coordination and acquires external resources to supplement SCDC's efforts.
3. The Division of Educational Services develops and evaluates curricula for the educational needs of SCDC inmates under the Palmetto Unified School District. This division is comprised of academic,

- vocational, special education, career education, and library services.
4. The Division of Health Services renders medical, dental and psychiatric care to inmates through its medical and dental staff and contractual agreements. It operates two infirmaries, one psychiatric unit, and coordinates the placement of inmates at the Byrnes Clinical Center and community hospitals as needed.

INSTITUTIONS OF THE SOUTH CAROLINA DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

At the end of FY 1985, the Department of Corrections operated a total of 26 institutions, which are listed in Table 1, pages 18 through 19. Figure 2, page 20, shows their location. Of these, six are work release centers, one is a pre-release center; one serves dually as a pre-release/work release center; one functions dually as a geriatric/handicapped unit and female work release unit. Excluding the pre-release and work release centers, 11 institutions are minimum security, one is minimum-medium security, one is medium security, three are medium-maximum security, and one is a maximum security. Four SCDC institutions are primarily for younger offenders, and three of these facilities predominantly house inmates sentenced under the Youthful Offender Act. One SCDC institution is exclusively for female inmates. During FY 1985, Maximum Security Center, formerly a separate maximum facility, was incorporated as part of Central Correctional Institution.

The total design capacity of these institutions at the end of FY 1985 was 6,927, and the safe and reasonable capacity, as approved by the Budget and Control Board and adopted by the Board of Corrections in March 1983, was 7,976. The capacities for individual institutions are shown in Table 1, pages 18 through 19. Capacity distributions are as follows: Appalachian Correctional Region — 2,247 design capacity, 2,582 safe and reasonable capacity; Midlands Correctional Region — 4,232 design capacity, 4,689 safe and reasonable capacity; and Coastal Correctional Region — 448 design capacity, 705 safe and reasonable capacity. The total average inmate population under SCDC jurisdiction during FY 1985 (excluding YOA pre-sentence, YOA parolees, EPA releasees, and non-death row safekeepers) was 10,121. Of these, 501 were housed in designated facilities, 294 were in the Extended Work Release Program, 549 were on Supervised Furlough, 75 were on Provisional Parole, and 163 were placed in non-SCDC locations.⁴ Thus, an average, 8,539 inmates were housed in SCDC facilities, operating at 123% of design capacity and 107% of safe and reasonable capacity.

Institutions of the South Carolina Department of Corrections are located in three divisions of the State known as correctional regions (See Figure 2). The Appalachian, Coastal, and Midlands Regions, are administered by regional administrators.

Because of overcrowded conditions in SCDC institutions/centers, and the desire of local entities to use prison labor, the Department has been housing state inmates in designated local facilities⁵ since FY 1975, as provided for by legislation. At the end of FY 1985, 484 state inmates were held in designated local facilities in 39 counties. During the fiscal year, the average number of SCDC inmates held in designated local facilities was 501, or 5.0% of the total average inmate population under SCDC jurisdiction.

⁵ See FY 1975 and FY 1976 SCDC Annual Report for details of the origin of designated facilities.

Besides housing inmates in designated facilities, SCDC also placed certain inmates in other special locations because of their unique assignments or needs. A 34-bed unit of the Byrnes Clinical Center, administered and operated by the South Carolina Department of Mental Health (SCDMH), was renovated and designated to hold SCDC inmates undergoing and recuperating from general surgery. Whereas SCDMH provides the professional services, SCDC is responsible for the security staffing and procedures. In addition to inmate assignments to the State Law Enforcement Division, a number of eligible inmates participate in programs (Extended Work Release, Supervised Furlough and Provisional Parole) that permit them to reside in the community under close supervision.

² The Safe and Reasonable Operating Capacity, after meeting approval of the Budget and Control Board, was adopted in March, 1983, by the Board of Corrections.

HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE

Corrections in South Carolina has evolved, over the years, from county-operated prison systems to state-administered institutions and from a single state penitentiary to a network of penal facilities throughout the State. The following summary of significant developments and events during this evolution provides a perspective for the current efforts of the South Carolina Department of Corrections.⁶

Dual Prison System and Creation of SCDC

As a humane alternative to cruelties which had prevailed under county supervision of convicts, the General Assembly passed an act which transferred the control of convicted and sentenced felons from the counties to the State and established the State Penitentiary during the 1860's. This act stripped the counties of their responsibility for handling felons. Shortly thereafter, the counties' demands for labor for building and maintaining roads prompted the reversal of this provision. And by 1930, county supervisors assumed full authority to choose either to retain convicts for road construction, or to transfer them to the State. This dual prison system of state-administered facilities and local prison and jail operations resulted in inequitable treatment of prisoners, and caused widespread criticism of the system.

In the midst of the political and legal developments concerning state and county jurisdiction over convicts, the State Penitentiary expanded to a network of penal facilities throughout the State. Changes reflecting the evolution of correctional philosophy to include educational and vocational training along with productive work programs were also experienced. Despite notable improvements, overcrowding and mismanagement prevailed. As a result, the state correctional system was reorganized, and the Department of Corrections was created through legislative action in 1960. But the autonomy of the state and local systems remained intact, and the dual prison system continued.

Problems inherent in the dual prison system became increasingly evident as crime rates soared in the 1960's. The most critical problems were related to the absence of adequate planning and programming, the inefficiency of resource utilization and the inequitable distribution of services. Therefore, reform of the total adult corrections system in South Carolina was necessary.

Consolidation of the South Carolina Adult Corrections System

While the problems of the dual prison system and the need for system reform had long been recognized, the major impetus for reform of the South Carolina adult corrections system was the 1973 Adult Corrections Study conducted by the Office of Criminal Justice Programs (OCJP). The major recommendations of this study were the elimination of the dual prison system in favor of a consolidated state system and regionalization of SCDC operations. Under the proposed consolidated system, the State would be responsible for all long-term adult offenders, ensuring humane treatment, providing confinement and programs and services close to their home communities. Under the proposed regionalization, the State would be divided into ten correctional regions, each with regional corrections coordinating offices. The coordinating offices would be headed by regional administrators. Each office would be responsible for administration of all SCDC facilities in the area. This would include the development, coordination and support of regional correctional programs in their respective regions, in coordination with the Department's central headquarters. Such regionalization was designed to provide improved planning, coordination and administration of SCDC operations and to facilitate effective and efficient utilization of local community resources.

While some recommendations in the Adult Corrections Study were modified in the course of implementation, the overall concept was adopted as policy by the State Board of Corrections, and steps were immediately taken to consolidate and regionalize the adult corrections system in South Carolina. The major step toward consolidation was the closing of county prison operations. Legislation passed in June, 1974, gave the State jurisdiction over all adult offenders with sentences exceeding three months, and counties were required to transfer any such prisoners in their facilities to the Department. Either voluntarily or through negotiations with SCDC officials, counties began transferring their long-term prisoners to the State and closing their prison operations in May, 1973. The result of this was that for the first time in the history of South Carolina corrections, all prisoners sentenced to more than 90 days were systematically processed and classified through the Department. Many were then returned to local jurisdictions to continue their involvement in public work programs.

This period in South Carolina saw many of the larger counties move away from the county supervisor form of administration to the county council manager system of government. All metropolitan counties except Anderson decided to end their involvement with county prison camps and turned many of the camps over to the Department which sorely needed additional room for its growing number of state prisoners. It continued to be permissible for any county to operate its own prison camp, provided the facility met certain basic standards. This local option was carried out when the Department, through agreement with the jurisdiction's governing body, designated the facility to be suitable to house state inmates. Since May 1, 1973, most counties have closed their prisons or converted them to other use. As of June 30, 1985, only nine counties operate prisons as separate facilities. Other counties operate combined facilities for detainees and sentenced inmates, county jails, correctional centers, overnight lockups, detention centers and/or law enforcement centers.

The assumption of county prisoners and the closing of many local prison systems enabled the Department to take steps toward the ultimate regionalization of SCDC operations. One of the major steps toward implementation of regionalization was the alignment of contiguous planning districts into correctional regions. Continual in-house studies of the geographic distribution of offenders, and cost-benefit analysis of resource utilization resulted in the Department's decision in FY 1975 to reduce the proposed number of correctional regions from the ten originally recommended by the Adult Correctional Study to four. Further in-depth examination of regionalization was undertaken as an integral part of the Ten Year Comprehensive Growth and Capital Improvements Plan developed in FY 1977. The distribution of SCDC facilities throughout the State, the commitment trends of the inmate population, the Department's manpower and financial resources and the capital improvement requirements suggested that the Department further reduce the number of correctional regions from four to three. This reduction was implemented; and by the end of FY 1979, three correctional regions — Appalachian, Midlands, and Coastal — were established and became fully operational through regional corrections coordinating offices. Although configuration and facility alignment changes have occurred, the current configuration is found in figure 2 on page 20.

Population Trends

SCDC's efforts to regionalize were made more difficult by the fact that this occurred during a time of unprecedented increases in crime in South Carolina, as well as throughout the nation. As a result of increasing crime, the counties' transfer of inmates to the State, and the legislative mandate for all long-term prisoners to be under SCDC jurisdiction, the Department experienced an unprecedented influx of offenders through the state corrections system during FY 1975. The number of inmates under state jurisdiction on June 30, 1975, (5,658) was 53% higher than on the same date the previous year (3,693). There was also an increase of more than 30% in the average daily population from FY 1974 to FY 1975 (from 3,542 to 4,618). However, this percentage increase was surpassed during FY 1976 when the average daily population under SCDC jurisdiction (6,264) increased by 35.6% over the FY 1975 figure, the largest known yearly increase in average daily population in SCDC history. Such increases in the number of inmates under state jurisdiction have been among the severest in the nation, as indicated by a nationwide survey of the National Clearinghouse for Criminal Justice Planning and Architecture.

The dramatic increases in inmate population in Fiscal Year 1975 and 1976 resulted in intensified overcrowding in SCDC facilities, as well as a constant strain on the Department's financial resources. The Department was forced to focus primary attention on solving the problems of overcrowding and limited financial resources. Short-term and long-range strategies directed toward overcoming either or both problems have involved renovation of existing facilities; realignment of existing space use; acquisition of additional facilities, expanded use of designated facilities, revision of Youthful Offender institutional release policies; revision of fiscal policies and procedures; introduction of economizing measures; revision of capital improvement plans; implementation of the Extended Work Release Program as an alternative to continued incarceration, and implementation of an Earned Work Credit Program, providing reduction in time to serve for inmates participating in productive work.

Partly as a result of SCDC's implementation of program alternatives to incarceration, and partly because of a stabilization of commitments to the correctional system, the dramatic population increase in Fiscal Years 1975 and 1976 did not persist in subsequent years. Inmate population continued to increase but at a more moderate rate, and in FY 1977-81 stabilization in the population level was witnessed. However, this population stabilization did not continue in FY 1982 when the average daily population increased 6.5% over Fiscal Year 1981. This trend continued through FY 1985 as the average daily population increased 3.4% over the previous fiscal year. (Table 3, page 46, shows the average inmate population for Fiscal Years 1967-1985.)

SIGNIFICANT DEVELOPMENTS IN FY 1985

The Department of Corrections was thrust into the public eye during Fiscal Year 1985. In addition to the problem of continued prison overcrowding and compliance with the settlement agreement reached in the Nelson v. Leeke lawsuit, there was strong public sentiment in favor of harsher penalties for certain violent crimes. Publicized cases contributed to the momentum of citizen groups such as Citizens Against Violent Crime (CAVE), who pressed for legislative reform to introduce stricter penalties. Projecting that such penalties will result in increases in inmate population, the Department of Corrections anticipated further elevation of the overcrowding problem without approval of additional prisons. The conflicting goals of stricter penalties and reducing the fiscal burden of prison construction became priority concerns of various groups including the Governor's Office of Public Safety, the Sentencing Guidelines Commission, the Prison Overcrowding Project of the State Reorganization Commission, and various citizens groups.

The implementation of programs and policies aimed at reducing the inmate population to a manageable level, compliance with the Nelson settlement, plans for the construction of additional prisons, and renovations of existing prisons were priorities in Fiscal Year 1985. An additional EPA rollback during the Fiscal Year helped relieve overcrowding. Construction of the Francis Lieber Correctional Institution continued during Fiscal Year 1985, with a scheduled completion date of June, 1986. Plans were made for a medium/maximum prison in McCormick County, and construction is scheduled to begin in early Fiscal Year 1986. The Gilliam Psychiatric Unit at Kirkland Correctional Institution was completed and opened in August 1984, adding 96 beds. A settlement was reached and signed in the Nelson v. Leeke lawsuit on January 8, 1985. A Compliance Office was established to monitor the requirements set forth in the agreement. During the year the Compliance Office worked closely with the Classification Branch to ensure that an objective classification system for placement and reassignment of inmates was developed.

Inmate Population Gains

In fiscal year 1985, SCDC's average daily jurisdictional inmate population (excluding YOA pre-sentence, YOA parolees, EPA releasees, and non-death row safekeepers) was 10,121 (an increase of 332 (3.4%) over FY 1984). This continued a trend of increasing average daily populations, although this year's increase was not as great as the 9.2% increase in FY 1983. Of the average 10,121: 8,539 were housed in SCDC facilities; 501 in designated facilities; 918 in community programs (Extended Work Release, Supervised Furlough, Provisional Parole) and the remaining 163, in other state non-SCDC facilities by special assignments (the Alston Wilkes' Halfway House, Criminal Justice Academy, Hospital facilities, etc.). Since our facilities' safe and reasonable capacity averaged 7,976, SCDC was operating at 107% of that capacity. The average SCDC facility, designated facility, community programs and non-SCDC facility count varied only slightly from the previous fiscal year.

Institutional Changes and Capital Improvements

Construction and renovation projects to increase bedspace for compliance with the Nelson Suit were of high priority during the fiscal year 1984-85.

The Gilliam Psychiatric Unit at Kirkland Correctional Institution was completed and opened in August, 1984. The 96-bed dormitory building of the Gilliam Unit was opened in October, 1984. Stevenson Correctional Institution was renovated to accommodate the Habilitation Unit, a special learning unit, formerly located at Kirkland Correctional Institution. Temporary offices in the Quonset Hut at the Lieber Correctional Institution were completed for occupancy in October 1984. Complete construction of Lieber Correctional Institution is scheduled for June 16, 1986.

Capital Improvement and Appropriated Funds for several new projects and previously frozen projects were approved and released in December 1984. Construction on a new medium/maximum prison in McCormick County is scheduled to begin early in FY 1986. The Midlands Reception and Evaluation Center project began in April, 1985, and frozen funds for the Women's Center Dorm were released and work began in March, 1985.

The Maximum Security Center, formerly a separate institution, was made a part of Central Correctional Institution. However, complete phase-out as a maximum security unit probably will not be effected prior to 1986.

Implementation of the Emergency Prison Overcrowding Powers Act (EPA) And Supervised Furlough Program

In June of 1983, the South Carolina General Assembly passed the "Prison Overcrowding Powers Act" (EPA) to provide an emergency release mechanism to relieve prison overcrowding. The Act authorizes the Governor to declare a state of emergency when the prison population exceeds "safe and reasonable operating capacity" for 30 consecutive days, thereby empowering the Board of Corrections to advance by 30, 60, or 90 days the maxout release date⁷ of non-violent offenders⁸ with sentences greater than nine months. Non-violent offenders with a sentence of nine months or less will receive only a fraction of the advancement amount. All eligible inmates in, or admitted to the prison system during the EPA emergency will also be qualified for the advancement/early release. Inmates released early via the EPA provisions are to be placed in the community and remain under the jurisdiction and supervision of the Department of Parole and Community Corrections (DPCC) until expiration of their sentences.

Implementation of EPA affects inmates' maxout release dates and accordingly, eligibility for other programs related to the maxout date. The major program affected is the Supervised Furlough II (SFII) Program authorized on June 13, 1983.

Under the SFII statute, non-violent offenders who are within six months of their maxout date and have served at least six months with a clear disciplinary record, are eligible to be placed in intensive community supervision by DPCC while remaining in SCDC jurisdiction. An EPA declaration results in an advancement of maxout dates, and since SFII eligibility is six months prior to maxout, there is a corresponding advancement of SFII eligibility. Inmates becoming eligible for SFII as a result of the EPA advancement of maxout date are thus under SFII supervision for 180 days (i.e., full duration of the SFII Program) and then are re-assigned to EPA supervision for the remainder of their sentences. Therefore, an inmate can be released from institutional incarceration more than 180 days prior to his scheduled maxout release date. Inmates affected by EPA but not eligible/approved for SFII are placed directly to EPA supervision and jurisdiction of the DPCC.

The EPA was first invoked by the Governor on September 2, 1983, and the amount of a full advancement (rollback) was 90 days. As overcrowding continued, the Act was invoked twice subsequently, in March, 1984, and in June, 1985. On both occasions, a 90-day advancement was implemented. Since the state of emergency had not been lifted at any time since the first rollback, all eligible inmates in SCDC at that time with a sentence greater than nine months could receive a maximum of 270 days advancement of sentence. Between September 16, 1983, and June 30, 1985, 817 inmates were released from SCDC institutions directly to the EPA Program and 2,098 were placed on the SFII Program.

In FY 1985, 563 inmates were placed directly on EPA and 1,076 were placed directly on SFII, of whom 620 were eligible at the time of placement because of EPA. As of June 30, 1985, 453 were in the community being supervised under EPA and 372 were under SFII.

Litigation Over Overcrowded Conditions in SCDC

In FY 1985, agreement was reached with regard to a proposed settlement of the class action suit filed in 1982 by former inmate Gary Nelson against SCDC. The suit alleged overcrowding and other inadequacies throughout the SCDC system. On January 8, 1985, the settlement was signed by attorneys for both sides and by the defendants. A few of the numerous terms that were agreed to included establishing new classification procedures that will better separate violent and non-violent inmates, making a good faith effort to close Central Correctional Institution and complying with various American Correctional Association Health, Food Service, Fire Safety, and Training Standards.

To comply with the Nelson agreement, SCDC accelerated the construction of Francis Lieber Correctional Institution, and proceeded with constructing the following: an additional high-security prison, a new reception and evaluation center, a 96-bed unit at the Women's Correctional Center, as well as renovating buildings at CCI. During the fiscal year, SCDC received adequate funds from the legislature for meeting first year Nelson Suit requirements. In 1984 the General Assembly approved approximately $75 million to initiate the funding of the agreement. It is anticipated that the federal court will approve the settlement early in FY 1985-86.

Proposed Legislation Directly Affecting the South Carolina Department of Corrections.

Fiscal Year 1985 was a year in which many legislative bills directly affecting the Department of Corrections were introduced in the State Legislature. The flood of legislation stemmed, in part, from the public's desire for harsher punishment for crimes. Publicized criminal cases during the year contributed to citizens awareness and involvement in crime and punishment. Criminal Justice reform was also a priority for the Sentencing Guidelines Commission, the Governor, and the Attorney General, resulting in legislative proposals warranting impact analysis by the Department of Corrections. Although only two of the many bills imposing harsher penalties were passed, other legislation dealing with crime and punishment were in various stages of the legislative process when the session ended. Many of these proposals will likely be reintroduced in the FY 1986 legislative session.

S258 and H2120 were the two bills passed by the General Assembly affecting the Department of Corrections. S258 classifies burglary and housebreaking into first, second, and third degree depending on aggravating and mitigating circumstances. H2120 provides that when the Governor commutes a sentence of death, the commuttee is not eligible for parole and that no person sentenced for murder may receive work release credits that would reduce the mandatory twenty-year imprisonment before parole consideration.

Two significant bills, not passed in FY 1985 but scheduled to be reintroduced in the Fiscal Year 1985-86 legislative session, include the Classification Bill and the Omnibus Criminal Justice Improvements Act. The Classification Bill would classify the offenses in South Carolina statutes into four classes of felonies and four classes of misdemeanors with specified maximums and minimums for each class. One of the many parts of this bill calls for the elimination of community programs such as Supervised Furlough, Provisional Parole, and Extended Work Release Program.

Whereas the Classification Bill focuses on statutory reform toward certain punishment and fairer and more consistent sentencing, the Governor's Omnibus Criminal Justice Improvements Act offers a strategy to relieve overcrowding meeting the desire of the public for tougher sentences. The act proposes longer sentences for certain offenders and a reduction in state prison population by allowing inmates with a year or less sentence to be under county jurisdiction. Among those designated to receive tougher penalties are multiple offenders, violent offenders committing crimes with firearms, murderers, and other high-risk offenders. At the end of FY 1985, the Omnibus Criminal Justice Improvements Act was passed by the Senate and the House Judiciary Committee.

Cumulative Impact of Earned Work Credit Program (EWCP)

SCDC's overcrowding situation would have been much worse had it not been for the impact of the Earned Work Credit Program and the Extended Work Release Program on reducing facilities population. The EWCP was authorized as part of the Litter Control Act signed into law by the Governor on May 5, 1978. In addition to providing for the use of inmates for litter control and removal, the Act amended Section 24-13-230 of the 1976 S. C. Code of Laws, and authorized SCDC's Commissioner to allow a reduction of time served by inmates assigned productive duty. Earned Work Credits were to be awarded on the basis of performance on the assigned job as well as classification level. The job levels and the credits for a full-time job requiring more than four hours work per day are as follows:

- Level 2: One Earned Work Credit for each two days worked.
- Level 3: One Earned Work Credit for each three days worked.
- Level 5: One Earned Work Credit for each five days worked.
- Level 7: One Earned Work Credit for each seven days worked.

Those assigned to part-time jobs, requiring up to four hours each work day, can earn one-half of the amount of credits shown above.

During FY 1985, an average of 7,708 inmates (or 76 percent of the SCDC average daily population) were productively engaged and earned credits towards their time to serve. An additional 993 inmates, on the average, worked on jobs but due to their sentence category were not eligible for motivational work credits as specified by the Litter Control Act. Among those eligible for motivational work credit, a total of 759,823 credits were earned during this period for a productivity average of 99 credit days per inmate. These credits ultimately will result in an earlier release date for each of these inmates at an average of 57 days per 100 credit days earned for those released with sentence served and 100 days per 100 credit days for those paroled. A detailed breakdown of the daily average of inmates in each job assignment and the total and average number of work credits generated by each job during this period is presented in Table 26 in the Statistical Section, pages 100 through 109. The profile of inmates at each job level of productive work close to the end of FY 1985 was as follows:

Level	Full Time	Part Time	Number of Inmates
2 (One day credit for each two days worked)	3,199	3	3,202 (31.1%)
3 (One day credit for each three days worked)	2,074	22	2,096 (20.4%)
5 (One day credit for each five days worked)	1,412	42	1,456 (14.1%)
7 (One day credit for each seven days worked)	843	135	978 (9.5%)
Unassigned/Not Earning Credit*	2,555	—	2,555 (24.8%)
TOTAL ° °	10,083	202	10,285

* Inmates undergoing transfer, reception and evaluation processing, or administrative disciplinary action, or unassigned.

° ° Does not include inmates on Death Row or ICC.

The Earned Work Credit Program was conceived as a strategy to stabilize inmate population, thereby controlling the spiraling long-term capital improvements and operating costs. The effects of earned work credits on the SCDC population level and operational costs have resulted in the reduction of time served of released inmates. The program has been authorized for seven years and fully operational for about 6½ years through the end of FY 1985. Between July 1, 1984, and June 30, 1985, 6,048 inmates were released from SCDC. Of that number, 4,335 inmates (71%) had their time served reduced via the productive work provisions of the Litter Control Act.⁹

⁹ Of the remaining 1,713 inmates released, 340 had earned work credits, but because of a combination of circumstances were not affected in their release eligibility.

Extended Work Release Program (EWRP)

Since legislative authorization on June 13, 1977, the EWRP has continued to facilitate the placement of eligible inmates in communities residing with family sponsors, thereby relieving work release bedspace for other inmates. Amended June 15, 1981, selection criteria for the EWRP now provides the exceptional regular work release resident, convicted of a first and not more than a second offense, the opportunity to reside with an approved community sponsor and to be gainfully employed in the community.¹⁰ Each extended work release participant must have satisfactorily participated in regular work release, exhibited a desire to become a law-abiding citizen, and satisfied other criteria set forth by departmental policy. Participants in EWRP report to work release centers and are required to reimburse SCDC $21.00 a week for supervision.

During FY 1985, 471 inmates were placed on EWRP; 390 successfully completed the program and were released or paroled from SCDC, 151 were transferred to other programs, and 33 were terminated for rule violations. The number of inmates in the program averaged 294 during the fiscal year, and on June 30, 1985, 224 program participants were residing with community sponsors rather than being housed in SCDC facilities.

Health Services

In accordance with the Nelson Settlement, major focus this year has been in gaining compliance in all clinics with American Correctional Association/Commission on Accreditation for Corrections (ACA/CAC) Standards. Audits were conducted in January and May, and 100% compliance was reached in all clinics. Last year's cost reduction effort continued to be of primary importance, along with improvement in the area of service delivery.

During FY 1985, outside consultants were brought in to assist in a detailed study of the inmate health/mental health care system. The evaluation recommended additional staff as well as equipment to enable the department to comply with ACA Standards. The development of a detailed plan for the implementation of the recommendations suggested from the study was established, as stipulated in the Nelson Settlement. These recommendations are to be phased in over a three-year period.

In addition, a Mortality Review Committee was initiated for the purpose of ensuring that the health care received within SCDC meets, at least, community standards. To evaluate service delivery, all medical records of deceased inmates are to be reviewed.

¹⁰ Before the amendment, only inmates convicted of non-violent crime were allowed to participate in the EWRP.

In the cost reduction area, SCDC and the Department of Mental Health jointly contracted with Martin Segal Company, Atlanta, for review of all hospital bills prior to payment to determine if fees are appropriate and treatment and services consistent with medical diagnosis. The review process was to begin on July 1, 1985. As a deterrent to the high costs for community hospital services, Byrnes Clinical Center continued to be the referral agency for the majority of medical and surgical inpatient care for many of the specialty clinics. The census stayed at or near capacity for the entire year.

The opening of the Gilliam Psychiatric Center resulted in improved service delivery of mental health services. In October, inmates were moved from their old housing to the dormitory portion of the Gilliam Center. Gilliam Center reached its maximum capacity in April of 1985 and has remained full constantly since that time. Plans were made for the establishment of additional transitional care units in major institutions. These plans will begin to be implemented during fiscal year 1986-87. The transitional care units will relieve some of the intense admission pressures currently being felt by the Gilliam Center.

Resource and Information Management (RIM) and Technology Plan

The Department of Corrections has grown significantly in the area of data processing during the past several years. The availability of the Cathode Ray Terminals (CRTs) to the users of the SCDC information system is of primary importance. In order to process inmates and perform financial and statistical functions, on-line equipment must be readily available. Personal computers were added to the information network during the past year, in part, to facilitate reporting requirements of the Nelson Settlement. With the average life span of data processing equipment approximately five years, the addition of new equipment and the replacement of outdated equipment is an ongoing process. At the end of the fiscal year the Department of Corrections had approximately 177 terminals, 76 printers and 34 PC's.

Correctional Industries and Farming Operations

SCDC's industries experienced continued improvements in sales during FY 1985. Industries' sales for Fiscal Year 1985 was $5,506,582, with a profit of $250,650.

A new dairy at Wateree Correctional Institution began operation in June 1985. It consists of a milking parlor, processing plant, and 144 stall feed lots. The milk parlor consists of a double nine herringbone system that can milk 90 cows per hour. The plant has a capability of separating butter fat, and producing pasteurized low-fat milk, chocolate milk, buttermilk and fruit drinks.

The Division of Industries' accounting system was updated during FY 1985. The purchase of a small computer system has provided a more efficient accounting system. The software consists of a work order system, accounts receivable, accounts payable, purchase orders and general ledger. The computer also has the capability of storing sales records and customer information.

The construction of a bus/truck restoration facility is being planned for Lieber Correctional Institution. Plans have been drawn up, bids submitted, and a projected date for operation of June 1, 1986, has been set.

Personnel Administration and Training

Hiring and recruiting activities increased dramatically during FY 1984-85. In compliance with Nelson Suit, over 400 new employees were hired to fill positions stipulated in the Settlement, in addition to replacement hiring. Advance correctional officer recruiting efforts were conducted for the start-up of the Lieber and McCormick facilities. At the close of the fiscal year, over 500 applications had already been taken for Lieber Correctional Institution positions.

A basic reading, writing and math skills test was developed for correctional officer applicants. As the volume of recruiting of correctional officers increases, this test will ensure that new hires have adequate skills to be effectively trained and to perform their jobs. The test was validated by an outside consultant, cut-off scores are being established, and implementation will take place early fall of 1985.

Within the agency, a comprehensive Employee Attitude Survey was conducted by an outside consultant. A representative sample of approximately 500 employees were surveyed to determine employees' perceptions of their jobs, associated duties, co-workers, supervisors and work environment. Other employees were given a chance to complete questionnaires as auxiliary data to the sample group. Preliminary results have been presented and an employee executive summary will be forthcoming next fiscal year.

Training increased significantly during Fiscal Year 1985. A part of the Nelson agreement, all employees are required to receive 40 hours of "work related" training a year in addition to the 40 hours of orientation for new employees. With new responsibilities imposed by the Nelson agreement and many new employees to be hired, plans were made to separate training and personnel functions into two Divisions in the upcoming fiscal year.

Division of Human Services

The Division of Human Services is responsible for assessing inmate needs, and coordinating the funding and provision of programs to meet these needs both within SCDC and in concordance with external social agencies.

Among the major accomplishments in FY 1985 was the development of the SCDC Adult Sexual Offender Treatment Program. A SCDC publication titled, "Treating Sexual Offenders — A Research Overview and Program Manual" resulted from research conducted to develop the program. In addition, an initial 32-hour training and orientation workshop was conducted for all Adult Sexual Offender Treatment Program designated social workers at Perry Correctional Institution, Kirkland Correctional Institution, Manning Correctional Institution and Central Correctional Institution. Also during the fiscal year, the Division of Human Services actively participated in the Nelson Settlement Health/Mental Health Staffing Study conducted by Dr. Lloyd Baccus. A resulting SCDC three-year Mental Health Staffing Plan was developed from that study.

Division of Education

During FY 1985, for the first time, Educational Finance Act (EFA), Educational Improvement Act (EIA), and State Department of Education funding was made available to provide educational services for the public school age pupils within the jurisdiction of the South Carolina Department of Corrections, and for capital improvements. The Palmetto Unified School District #1 received $416,800 in EFA funding and $126,618 from EIA funding. A teachers' pay schedule was established which is comparable to the pay plans of other school districts within the state. The new salary schedule was established under the provision that the District's ability to recruit professional and properly certified staff would be enhanced as a result. Capital improvement funds from the State Department of Education resulted in improvements to educational facilities, especially in the library area.

A high school curriculum was established in the Palmetto Unified School District and educational programs were upgraded to meet the requirements of the District's Defined Minimum Program. Programmatic improvements include expansion of computer assisted instruction, guidance services at EFA schools, and night school programs. For the first time, SCDC participated in the Statewide Comprehensive Test of Basic Skills and the Assessment of Performance in Teaching Programs. From this assessment, the implementation of an improved method for the individualization of instruction was developed and initiated.

Inmate Classification

With the signing of the Nelson Settlement, the Classification Branch developed and implemented procedures to meet the 30-day requirements affecting classification. Additional employees were hired (e.g., classification caseworkers, administrative specialists, assistant project administrators), and approval for 24 additional classification positions was granted for FY 1985-86.

A proposal was developed for a comprehensive objective classification system, including criteria for initial classification, reclassification and internal classification. The proposal received full endorsement by the Special Classification Committee.

The internal classification project at Central Correctional Institution was completed. At the completion of the project, the Special Classification Committee approved the Adult Internal Management System (AIMS) plan for statewide implementation. AIMS was fully implemented during FY 1984-85 at Central Correctional Institution, Perry Correctional Institution and Kirkland Correctional Institution. Procedures were established at both reception and evaluation centers to accomplish AIMS classification on medium security inmates.

Accreditation

Over the past two years, the South Carolina Department of Corrections actively began seeking accreditation of its facilities. A major effort has been made to comply with the Commission on Accreditation for Corrections (CAC) standards and, where necessary, to write new policies for standards compliance.

In FY 1984, the Youthful Offender Branch, Parole Field Service, entered its third year of initial accreditation. During FY 1985, the Youthful Offender Branch — Parole Field Service, was reaccredited, becoming the first accredited program/facility to be reaudited.

The Palmer Work Release Center and the Dutchman Correctional Institution were audited in the fall of 1983 and formally awarded a three-year accreditation certificate by the CAS in January 1984, becoming the first SCDC facilities to be accredited.

Two additional facilities, Watkins Pre-Release Center and the Cross Anchor Correctional Institution, were granted three-year accreditation certificates in FY 1985. And presently, the Livesay Work Release Center and the State Park Correctional Center are under contract with CAC, with audits anticipated in early 1986.

Death Row

As set forth by South Carolina Law, for those persons convicted of Murder and sentenced to death, the SCDC has the responsibility of “providing a death chamber and all necessary appliances for inflicting such penalty by electrocution” (Section 24-3-540, S. C. Code of Laws). Since the amendment and passage of the current death penalty law in June, 1977, SCDC has been housing three inmates on Death Row at CCI as safekeepers for the county. During the year, SCDC received 8 inmates to Death Row, and at the end of the fiscal year, there were a total of 39 on Death Row. Of this number, 2 were white and 6 were black, all were male and sentenced for Murder. Their ages ranged from 19 to 50, with an overall average age of 30. They were engaged in varying stages of the appeals process with an average stay on Death Row of 3 years 1 month.

Since reinstatement of capital punishment in 1977, SCDC has received 47 Death Row inmates. Eight were removed from the Death Row count: four had their death sentences commuted to life; one was resentenced; one was retried, found not guilty, and released from SCDC; one died as a result of homicide; and in FY 1985, for the first time in 22 years, one was executed.

STATISTICAL SECTION

STATISTICAL SECTION

Detailed inmate statistics and personnel are presented on pages 44 to 117. Tables 7 to 13 therein delineate the characteristics of inmates admitted to SCDC during FY 1985. Tables 14 to 23 describe the inmate population in SCDC at the end of FY 1985. Tables 24 to 26 pertain to inmates released from SCDC during FY 1985. The following provides an overview of inmate population flow and characteristics.

Average Population and Facility Occupancy in FY 1985

- During FY 1985, on an average daily basis, SCDC had 10,121 incarcerated inmates under its custody. For every 100 inmates, 84 were housed in SCDC facilities, 5 in Designated Facilities, and 11 were placed in other locations.
- SCDC's average daily population in FY 1985 increased by 3.4% over FY 1984.
- SCDC facilities continued to be overcrowded in FY 1985, although total design capacity had increased by 96 beds by fiscal year end. Overall,¹² SCDC facilities were housing about one and one-fourth times the number of inmates they were designed to hold. Based on the safe and reasonable capacity, Campbell Work Release Center was most overcrowded (over one and one half its rated capacity).
- Based on design capacity, in only 7 of the 26 SCDC facilities was there a lack of overcrowding on an average daily basis; based on the safe and reasonable capacity, 12 facilities were not overcrowded.

Profile of Inmates Admitted to SCDC During FY 1985

The profile of 6,750 admissions recorded by the Correctional Information System during FY 1985, is as follows:

- For every 100 inmates admitted, 40 were white male, 52 non-white male, 3 white female and 5 non-white female.
- Forty-three (43) out of every 100 inmates admitted were from the Appalachian Region, 29 from the Midlands Region, and 28 from the Coastal Region.
- The most common offenses¹² among admissions were: Larceny (22 out of 100 inmates admitted were convicted of this offense), Dangerous Drugs (12/100), Traffic Offenses¹³ (9/100), Burglary (8/100), Assault (7/100), and Robbery (6/100).
- The average age for inmates admitted in FY 1985 was 29 years (7 months older than FY 1984 admissions). Generally as groups, nonwhites were somewhat younger (one to two years) than whites, and males were slightly younger than females (4 to 9 months).

- For every 100 inmates admitted, 13 were 19 years of age or younger and 50 between 20 and 29 years of age (more than half, therefore, were 30 years of age or younger).
- Inmates admitted in FY 1985 had an average sentence of 5 years and 7 months. (This average is one month more than in FY 1984.)
- Generally, non-white male admissions had longer average sentences than white males (6 years 4 months for the former, 5 years 3 months for the latter). Female admissions had shorter average sentences than males. Notable differences in types of offenses/nature of crimes may contribute to variations in sentence.
- For every 100 admissions, 13 had a YOA sentence and 33 had a sentence of a year or less. The number of YOA's decreased slightly in FY 1985 (32 fewer), and the percentage of admissions with YOA sentences decreased. Admissions in the year or less category increased (293 more in FY 1985).

Profile of Inmates in SCDC as of June 30, 1985

There was a total of 10,350 inmates in SCDC as of June 30, 1985 (614 or .6% more than approximately the same date a year ago). The characteristics of these inmates were as follows:

- For every 100 inmates in SCDC, 37 were white males, 58 non-white males, 2 white females and 3 non-white females.
- There was about the same proportion of non-white males in the system on June 30, 1985 (58%), as on June 30, 1984 (57%). Proportionally, white males remained almost the same at 37%.
- Of every 100 inmates, 16 were in AA custody, 43 in A, 31 in B, 3 in C, 4 in M, 1 in semi-trusty and 2 in protective. The custody grade composition had no major difference from that on June 30, 1984.
- Most serious offenses for inmates in SCDC on June 30, 1985, were: Larceny (20 out of every 100 inmates were convicted of this offense), Robbery (15/100), Homicide (15/100), Burglary (8/100), Dangerous Drugs (9/100),¹⁴ and Assault (7/100).
- The average age among all inmates in SCDC on June 30, 1985, was 30 years 7 months (29 years 6 months a year ago). This average was slightly higher for females (31 years 4 months). Non-white males were younger than their white counterparts (30 years and 31 years 3 months, respectively).

¹⁴ Because of the relatively fast turnover with short sentences, the leading offenses for the inmate population in SCDC on specific dates were somewhat different from those for admission cohorts. Traffic offenses which carry relatively short sentences were the third leading (most serious) among admissions cohorts, but ranked number 9 among offenses for the inmate population as of June 30, 1985. Only 2.6% of the inmate population as of that date were convicted of traffic offenses.

- The average sentence of the SCDC inmate population on this date was 12 years 9 months. For non-white males, the average was 13 years 6 months, as compared to 12 years 5 months for white males. White females had an average sentence of 7 years 2 months; non-white females, 6 years 9 months.
- There were fewer YOA's in SCDC on June 30, 1985, than a year ago (715 or 6.9% versus 799 or 8.2%). There was an increase in the number of lifers (839 (8.1%) on June 30, 1985, versus 804 (8.3%) a year ago).
- On June 30, 1985, there were relatively more white males (8.9%) than non-white males (7.6%) in the life category; there were also more white males (8.2%) than non-white males (6.1%) in the YOA sentence category.

The number of non-white females versus white females for lifers was comparable (Life: 22 vs. 21), but there were fewer non-white YOA's than white YOA's (13 vs. 24).

Statistics on Inmates Released from SCDC During FY 1985

During FY 1985, SCDC released 6,048 inmates. Of every 100 inmates released, 14 were youthful offenders paroled by the Youthful Offender Branch of SCDC's Division of Classification and Community Services; 19 were paroled by the Probation, Parole and Pardon Board; 34 had served the maximum term of their sentence after consideration for good time credits; 15 were placed on probation; and 14 were EPA conditional releases. The remaining 4 were released upon paying a fine or appeal bond or death.

- For every 100 inmates released, over half (54) served one year or less while 2 served ten or more years. The average time served for all inmates released was 1 year and 10 months.

Special placements included those inmates assigned to the State Law Enforcement Division, the Commissioner's Home, hospital facilities, Alston Wilkes Half-way Houses, Interstate Corrections Compact, authorized absences, Extended Work Release, Supervised Furlough and Provisional Parole.

² Since April 1, 1975, suitable county and local facilities have been designated as facilities to hold State inmates as a temporary measure to alleviate overcrowded conditions in SCDC facilities.

APPENDIX A

STATUTORY AUTHORITY OF THE SOUTH CAROLINA DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

The South Carolina Department of Corrections was created in 1960 by Section 55-292, South Carolina Code of Laws as follows: "There is hereby created as an administrative agency of the State government the Department of Corrections. The functions of the Department shall be to implement and carry out the policy of the State with respect to its prison system, as set forth in 55-291, and the performance of such other duties and matters as may be delegated to it pursuant to Law."

Section 55-291 as referred to in Section 55-292 sets out the Declaration of Policy as follows: "It shall be the policy of this State in the operation and management of the Department of Corrections to manage and conduct the Department in such a manner as will be consistent with the operation of a modern prison system and with the view of making the system self-sustaining, and that those convicted of violating the law and sentenced to a term in the State Penitentiary shall have humane treatment, and be given opportunity, encouragement and training in the matter of reformation."

Further significant statutory authority was provided the Department by Section 14, Part II, the permanent provisions of the 1974-75 General Appropriations Act which was signed on June 28, 1974. Section 14 is, in effect, an amendment of Section 55-321 and places all prisoners convicted of an offense against the State in the custody of the Department when their sentences exceed three months. The text of the statute is as follows:

"Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 55-321 of the 1962 Code, or any other provision of law, any person convicted of an offense against the State of South Carolina shall be in the custody of the Board of Corrections of the State of South Carolina, and the Board shall designate the place of confinement where the sentence shall be served.

"The Board may designate as a place of confinement any available, suitable and appropriate institution or facility, including a county jail or work camp whether maintained by the State Department of Corrections or otherwise, but the consent of the officials in charge of the county institutions so designated shall be first obtained. Provided, that if imprisonment for three months or less is ordered by the court as the punishment, all persons so convicted shall be placed in the custody, supervision and control of the appropriate officials of the county wherein the sentence was pronounced, if such county has facilities suitable for confinement."

This statute was amended by an added provision in the 1975-76 General Appropriations Act to provide for notification to the Department of Corrections of the closing of county prison facilities as follows: "Section 14, Part II, of Act 1136 of 1974 is amended by adding the following proviso at the end thereof: Provided, further, that the Department of Corrections shall be notified by the county officials concerned not less than six months prior to the closing of any county prison facility which would result in the transfer of the prisoners of the county facility to facilities of the Department."

APPENDIX B

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER ACT

The Youthful Offender Act provides for indeterminate sentencing of offenders between the ages of 17 and 21, extended to 25 with offender consent. The specific provisions of the Act are as follows:

Section 5b — This section allows the court to release the youthful offender to the custody of the Department's Division of Classification and Community Services prior to sentencing for an observation and evaluation period of not more than 60 days.

Section 5c — This section allows the court to sentence the youthful offender, between 17 and 21, without his consent, indefinitely to the custody of the Department's Division of Classification and Community Services for treatment and supervision until discharge. The period of such custody will not exceed six years. If the offender has reached 21 years of age but is less than 25 years of age, he may be sentenced in accordance with the above procedure if he consents thereto in writing.

Section 5d — This section provides that if the court finds that the youthful offender will not derive benefits from treatment, it may sentence the youthful offender under any applicable provision.

This program offers participants a series of pre-release training sessions at the Watkins Pre-Release Center and the Blue Ridge Community Pre-Release Center. Inmates on the 30-Day Pre-Release Program do not work in the community.

These programs have similar selection criteria but differ in terms of the inmates' remaining time to serve before eligible for parole or other forms of release. The Federal Bureau of Prisons refers some of their inmates to SCDC who are legal residents of South Carolina and meet all the criteria for the SCDC Regular Work Release Program. For details on the programs' respective eligibility requirements, users of this report should consult the Division of Classification and Community Services.
3. Extended Work Release Program: This program allows the exceptional work release inmate to continue employment in the community and reside with an approved community sponsor.
